

University of Massachusetts Boston

Center for Rebuilding Sustainable Communities after Disasters

John W. McCormack Graduate School of Policy Studies

An international conference on Rebuilding Sustainable Communities for children and their families after Disasters
November 16-19, 2008

Terence M. Keane

Dr. Keane is the Director of the National Center for Post Traumatic Stress Disorder at the Department of Veterans Affairs, Boston. He is a professor and vice-chair of the Department of Psychiatry at Boston University School of Medicine, and is also recognized as a world leader in the field of traumatic stress.

He will be a Keynote Speaker at the conference.

Dr. Keane developed many of the most widely used PTSD assessment measures and is considered an authority on the cognitive behavioral treatment of PTSD. Dr. Keane has participated in many scientific review panels and was co-chair of the National Institute of Mental Health Consensus Conference that established national standards for the diagnosis and assessment of PTSD. His research has been continuously funded for 27 years and he has published over 220 books, papers, and chapters.

He is a past president of ISTSS and a fellow of the American Psychological Association and the American Psychological Society, and he has received many awards, including a Fulbright Scholarship, Binghamton University's Weisband Distinguished Alumnus Award, the Association for Advancement of Behavior Therapy's Outstanding Researcher Award, the Robert J. Laufer Outstanding Scientific Achievement Award (1997) and the Lifetime Achievement Award (2004) from the ISTSS.

For further information, please visit our conference website:
www.rebuilding.umb.edu/rsccfd